Andrea Guarilla | Uruguay
QA Manager for Pharma Industry

The process was very good. It was a very good conversation, in which my needs were listened to and with concrete answers. My expectations were fully met. It changed the way I apply for a job offer. They gave me the tools I needed and I learned the new way of doing CVs. They answered my questions before, during and after the work sessions. I highly recommend it!

Pablo Spinelli | Spain
Cloud Security IT Engineer

I feel that the Coach4expats service helped me directly to achieve my goals because after having my new CV after the session and having taken the Masterclass on job search abroad, success began to materialize with interviews immediately. After that I got the offer I was waiting for so long to emigrate from Spain to the Netherlands! I also liked that you provide the tools in the following sense: it was not only "I teach you how to make your cv" but "I teach you how to make your cv so you can change it as many times as you want and make it look good". I can only thank you. The content for effective job search is perfect.

Marcelo Mastroianni | The Netherlands
MD & Medical Safety Physician

I strongly recommend Coach4expats because beyond having a wide knowledge as a recruiter and coach, she is a person who teaches from the wide experience she has not only in the working world but also in the personal sphere. Her advice was useful not only in the selection process but also in the day-to-day interaction with my colleagues. I only have words of gratitude for your patience and dedication.

Carolina Mori | Spain
Senior Project Manager

I met Coach4expats when I was immersed in my arduous job search to be able to emigrate to Spain from Argentina. Already from her Instagram account, I started to apply tips and tools she had available for free. I decided to have an International Job Search coaching session with Mariel. She listened attentively and we talked about how to better focus my search, what areas of my work experience to highlight, and how. She gave me tips for the interviews I had already scheduled and I applied them without hesitation. The result was immediate, in fact, after 2 or 3 weeks I already had my contract signed! Thank you very much Coach4expats for being such an important part not only at work but also personally!
